Borough President's Recruitment Efforts

- Outreach Efforts:

The Staten Island Borough President's Office ("SIBP") has used its Facebook page; official website; and Staten Island's local newspaper – the Staten Island Advance – to solicit applications for its three community boards. Further, SIBP's applications are posted year-round on SIBP's website under the 'Resources – Community Interest' tab.

- Methods used to seek candidates from diverse backgrounds:

It is the Borough President's goal to ensure that its local community boards are representative of diverse perspectives and opinions. SIBP, therefore, maintains the policy that the more people of more varied backgrounds and specialized skills, who are engaged, the better. Diversification, undoubtedly, broadens effectiveness of Staten Island's community boards. Further, it is the missions of SIBP to ensure that Staten Island's community boards proportionately represent the demographics of the area in which they serve.

Evaluation Criteria for Open Positions

- Core Competencies

SIBP seeks to build a board that, as a body, exercises essential competencies. Some competencies, for example, are strategic thinking and decision making; passion for local government and Staten Island; and connecting capabilities (ability to identify and develop relationships & networks). Core competencies are integral to community boards to develop recommendations to City agencies as well as initiate their own plans for the growth of Staten Island communities. Core competencies, therefore, play a role in deciding the future of Staten Island.

- Location

SIBP seeks to ensure each community board's areas are proportionately represented in each Staten Island board. Thus, when a vacancy arises, SIBP and District Council Members seek to immediately fill the vacancy with a community member who is from the same area as the individual who previously held the position. If a Community Board 3 vacancy was previously held by a resident of Oakwood, for example, SIBP would, if the applicant pool contained an individual from Oakwood and he/she met SIBP's criteria, would be appointed to fill the vacancy.

- Specific Expertise/ Experience

SIBP believes individuals with specific knowledge and skills are an integral asset to the functional committees of Staten Island community boards. Special skills or knowledge of particular topic strengthens community board discussions to navigate the particularly difficult challenges, problems, and decisions community boards need to make.
